INTRODUCTION

Canadian library symbols are a primary resource sharing tool. They are assigned by the National Library of Canada and present a standardized key to the identification of Canadian libraries, information centres, archives, collections and information services, many of which participate or are listed in a wide range of information activities such as data bases, bibliographies, union lists, local and regional networks, etc.

Symbols of Canadian Libraries, which was first published in 1957 by the National Library of Canada, appeared on an irregular basis until the sixth edition in 1975. It is now issued every two years.

Between editions, interim listings appear in BiblioTech, which is available free of charge. This publication can be obtained by writing to:

Publications Section
Public Relations Office
National Library of Canada
395 Wellington Street
Ottawa, Ontario
K1A ON4

New Canadian library symbols plus additions and changes are also forwarded to the Library of Congress every month and are published in Symbols of American Libraries.

Symbols of Canadian Libraries contains two sequences. The first sequence presents within provincial or territorial groupings an alphabetical listing of library symbols and the corresponding names of institutions to which the symbols have been assigned. The second sequence is an alphabetical list of the names of institutions, together with their library symbols.

A detailed explanation of the composition of symbols may be found in the next section, "Explanation of Symbols".

Symbols may be used in any context to identify institutions. Their assignment is provided upon request and free of charge by the National Library. Use of library symbols in no way incurs financial obligation and does not imply that the library assigned a symbol will participate in interlibrary lending activities, although this is one of the primary uses of Canadian library symbols. Generally, an institution will receive interlibrary loan requests only if that institution has contributed its bibliographic records and library holdings to some location tool, such as the Canadian Union Catalogues.

INTRODUCTION

Les sigles des bibliothèques canadiennes se révèlent un outil de travail fort utile lorsqu'il s'agit de partager les ressources. Ils sont attribués par la Bibliothèque nationale du Canada et constituent la clé, normalisée, de l'identification des bibliothèques, des centres d'information, des archives, des collections et des services d'information du Canada dont beaucoup participent ou sont inscrits à une vaste gamme d'activités informatives faisant appel notamment à des bases de données, à des bibliographies, à des catalogues collectifs, à des réseaux locaux et régionaux, etc.

La publication Sigles des bibliothèques canadiennes a été lancée par la Bibliothèque nationale du Canada en 1957 et est parue à intervalles irréguliers jusqu'à la sixième édition, publiée en 1975. Elle paraît maintenant tous les deux ans.

Entre chaque édition, des listes provisoires des sigles sont publiées dans BiblioTech, qui est distribuée gratuitement. Pour obtenir cette publication, il suffit d'écrire à l'adresse suivante :

Les nouveaux sigles canadiens et les révisions sont aussi communiqués à la Library of Congress tous les mois et publiés dans Symbols of American Libraries.

Le Sigles des bibliothèques canadiennes présente les sigles en double séquence. La première séquence dresse par province ou territoire une liste alphabétique des sigles et des établissements auxquels ceux-ci ont été attribués; la seconde, une liste alphabétique des noms des établissements et des sigles qui les représentent.

On trouvera une explication détaillée des sigles dans la partie du présent document intitulée "Explication des sigles".

Les sigles peuvent être utilisés dans n'importe quel contexte pour identifier des établissements. La Bibliothèque nationale du Canada les attribue gratuitement sur demande. Leur attribution n'entraîne aucun déboursement de la part des bibliothèques et n'engagent nullement ces dernières à participer aux activités de prêt entre bibliothèques, bien que ce type d'activité soit l'un des principaux usages des sigles. D'ordinaire, un établissement ne recevra des

More than 1000 new symbols and numerous cross-references and modifications have been added since the last edition. This sizable increase is due mainly to demand for symbol assignment generated by the Decentralized Program for Canadian Newspapers and the implementation of the National Library's automated interlibrary loan system.

The National Library appreciates notification of any errors or omissions, which will be corrected for the next edition. Such notification, as well as requests for new symbol assignment, may be sent to:

Depuis la parution de la dernière édition de Sigles des bibliothèques canadiennes, plus de mille sigles nouveaux et de nombreux renvois et modifications ont été ajoutés, essentiellement pour donner suite aux demandes d'attribution générées par le Plan décentralisé pour les journaux canadiens et par l'établissement du système automatisé de prêt entre bibliothèques de la Bibliothèque nationale.

Nous vous serions reconnaissants de nous signaler toute erreur ou omission à l'adresse donnée ci-dessous, où il convient également d'envoyer toute demande de sigle nouveau. Les modifications ainsi que les nouveaux sigles seront ajoutés à la prochaine édition.

EXPLANATION OF SYMBOLS

The symbols

Library symbols identify libraries by geographic location. They are composed of from two to ten letters, arranged in three groups or blocks. An attempt is made to keep groups mnemonic or representative, but short.

The first group (one or two letters) identifies the province:

NS = Nova Scotia
O = Ontario
Q = Québec
etc.

EXPLICATION DES SIGLES

Les sigles

Les sigles de bibliothèque servent à identifier les bibliothèques par emplacement géographique. Ils se composent de deux à dix lettres réunies en trois groupes. Nous essayons toujours de constituer des groupes mnémoniques ou représentatifs, mais il importe aussi qu'ils soient courts.

Le premier groupe (une ou deux lettres) désigne la province :

NS = Nova Scotia
O = Ontario
Q = Québec
etc.

The second group (one or more letters) identifies the city:

NSH = Nova Scotia, Halifax
OT = Ontario, Toronto
QSHER = Québec, Sherbrooke
etc.

Public library symbols are usually constructed with the first two groups of letters only.

Other institutions require a third group of letters to identify the institution itself. This group is composed of one or more letters. Some examples of complete symbols are:

NSHPL = Nova Scotia, Halifax
Nova Scotia Provincial Library, Nova Scotia Union Catalogue

OTBNL = Ontario, Toronto
Canadian National Institute for the Blind, National Library Division

QSHERU = Québec, Sherbrooke
Université de Sherbrooke

MW = Manitoba, Winnipeg
Winnipeg Centennial Library

SR = Saskatchewan, Regina
Regina Public Library

Corporate names often contain several subdivisions. Unlike symbols, in which corporate hierarchies are in descending order, multiple subdivisions which are part of a corporate name are listed in ascending hierarchical order in the alphabetical section, e.g., National Library Division, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Toronto.

Symbols, once assigned, are rarely altered, even though an institution may move or change its name. An exception is made when a library moves from one province to another.

The asterisk

The fact that a library is included in Symbols of Canadian Libraries does not necessarily mean that its holdings are also included in the Canadian Union Catalogue. An asterisk preceding either a symbol or a name of an institution indicates that this institution has contributed bibliographic records to the manual Canadian Union Catalogue at the National Library of Canada. It does not apply, however, to the automated Union Catalogue contained in the National Library's DOBIS data base.

Le deuxième groupe (au moins une lettre) désigne la ville :

NSH = Nova Scotia, Halifax
OT = Ontario, Toronto
QSHER = Québec, Sherbrooke
etc.

Les sigles des bibliothèques publiques se composent habituellement des deux premiers groupes de lettres seulement.

Les sigles des autres types de bibliothèque ont un troisième groupe, qui représente l'établissement proprement dit. Ce groupe comprend au moins une lettre. Voici des exemples de sigle complet :

NSHPL = Nova Scotia, Halifax
Nova Scotia Provincial Library, Nova Scotia Union Catalogue

OTBNL = Ontario, Toronto
Canadian National Institute for the Blind, National Library Division

QSHERU = Québec, Sherbrooke
Université de Sherbrooke

MW = Manitoba, Winnipeg
Winnipeg Centennial Library

SR = Saskatchewan, Regina
Regina Public Library

Les noms des collectivités sont souvent constitués de plusieurs subdivisions. Contrairement aux sigles, où les composantes sont données dans l'ordre hiérarchique descendant, les subdivisions multiples formant le nom d'une collectivité sont présentées en ordre hiérarchique ascendant dans la section alphabétique du livre de sigles, p. ex., National Library Division, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Toronto.

Une fois attribués, les sigles sont rarement modifiés, quand bien même l'établissement déménage ou change de nom. Nous faisons cependant exception à la règle, lorsqu'une bibliothèque déménage dans une autre province.

L'astérisque

Le fait qu'une bibliothèque voie son nom apparaître dans le Sigles des bibliothèques canadiennes ne signifie pas nécessairement que ses fonds figurent dans le catalogue collectif. Un astérisque précédant le sigle ou le nom de l'établissement signifie que ce dernier a, à un moment ou à un autre, signalé ses fonds au catalogue collectif manuel de la Bibliothèque nationale du Canada. L'astérisque n'a cependant

Cross-references (symbol section)

Cross-references in the symbol section of the book are used to indicate changes of province, amalgamations of libraries, or corrections if duplicate symbols were assigned.

Cross-references (alphabetical section)

A new feature in this section is the addition of "see" references. These have been added for libraries that have had name changes and for which the new (or old) name is not readily found.

rien à voir avec le catalogue collectif automatisé qu'on trouve dans la base de données DOBIS de la Bibliothèque nationale.

Renvois (section des sigles)

Dans la section des sigles de notre publication, les renvois sont utilisés pour indiquer un changement de province ou le fusionnement de bibliothèques, ou pour corriger une double attribution de sigle à un même établissement.

Renvois (section alphabétique)

La section alphabétique offre une particularité nouvelle, l'ajout de renvois, dans le cas des bibliothèques qui ont changé de nom et dont on ne peut trouver facilement le nom ancien ou nouveau.
